

The impact of violence on children is apparent in society ~ it doesn't take researchers to see that children are "norming" the violence they see and becoming numb to the violence in reality. What is the purpose? Why is violence entertaining? The violence needs to end ~